A four-inch blanket of snow, which may turn to a freezing drizzle later today, hampered attempts to clean-up here after last week's flood.

There's no relief in sight. The forecast is for the drizzle to stop and then begin again later tomorrow.

Meanwhile, most services were back to normal today. Route 23 was open to the north and south, but to one-lane traffic. Route 104 still is closed at the Big Darby Creek.

Lake Shore Bus Lines was back on schedule today. The line resumed its regular runs both north and south yesterday.

The Pennsylvania Railroad was closed to the west, but westbound traffic was being rerouted through Trinway and Columbus. About three-fourths of a mile of track to the west of the C & O underpass was washed out by the flood Thursday.

A CREW OF 50 men worked Saturday and yesterday in efforts to get the road back into complete operation. The first trains may pass over the repaired sections tomorrow late.

All rural postal routes are open again. Route 2 and half of Route 3 were closed Friday, but full service has been restored.

Mayor Ben H. Gordon reported today that federal government inspectors are expected in Circleville and Pickaway County within the next 48 hours to view the flood damage. A Civil Defense executive visited the city Saturday, he said.

The Pickaway County Commissioners left at 12:30 p. m. today for a meeting with Ohio Governor Michael V. DiSalle and other state and federal officials on possible federal aid for flood relief.

Commissioners Clyde Michel, chairman of the board, Charles Morris Jr. and Wayne Hines were to meet at the Health and Safety building, Columbus, at 2 p. m. along with other counties suffering flood damage.

The meeting was called by DiSalle to disseminate information pertaining to the eligibility, basic criteria and project applications required under Public Law 975.

Information gathered will be used to obtain federal assistance for temporary emergency repair to essential public facilities damaged (Continued on Page Two) own wells at 4 p. m. yesterday. A half hour later, the connection with the wells at the Container Corporation of America plant was taken off, putting the city system on its own for the first time since 11:30 a. m. Friday.

THE CCA volunteered the use of its wells to the city which gratefully accepted the offer after the municipal pumping station was inundated. Container employees worked all night Thursday protecting the wells and pumps from the rising water.

Ervin Leist, city utilities manager, was in Columbus today with samples of city water taken from various points around the distribution system. They were started into a 48-hour testing procedure by State Health laboratories at Ohio State University, at about 11:15 a. m.

Other samples from various points in the system were gathered late this morning by C. M. Robinson, sanitary engineer for the State Health Department. He also was to take the samples to Columbus for tests.

If the test proves the water to be safe—about noon Wednesday—employees of the Health Department stated they felt the city could start to use water without boiling. However, if the water tests bad, it will be Friday before water can be used with safety.

Ther today will be put on a 48-hour test, probably later today, and Leist will take more samples to Columbus tomorrow.

However, if the first batch proves safe, the Health Department probably will OK its use, but continuing checks will be made to assure the water remains safe.

Leist said two small electric pumps are in operation at the pumping station now. Two large motors will be placed back in the station possibly Wednesday, when, and if, ground dries out enough to transport them into the station which is located along Darby Creek, about a mile northwest of the city.

Leist also explained the muddy appearance of the water. He said the "dirty" water comes mainly from iron which is scoured off the sides of the pipes by water res sure after the system was shut down entirely.

While tests are being conducted, most Circleville residents are becoming hardened to the task of boiling water. Some are carrying jugs, bottles and cans to friends who have access to safe wells. Drinking water is available at several places in and near the city—Elsa's Trailer Court, DuPont, Pickaway Dairy Co-op Assn.

Snow Adds More Trouble to Ohio

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Snow and freezing rain brought new problems in transportation to Ohio today—before problems created by last week's high water could be completely solved.

The biggest part of the state's main highways has been opened to traffic, the Ohio Highway Patrol said, but added this warning: "The aftermath of recent flooding has tied up road crews, and in many cases they won't be able to cope with ice and snow as quickly as usual. Drivers are urged to be extremely cautious." Central Ohio appeared to be receiving much of the snow, with about two inches recorded this morning. Northeast Ohio, always a target for precipitation, had three or four inches in some areas Sunday.

But north-central and northwest counties saw an end to the snow and freezing rain by morning. The icy rain continued near Cincinnati, however, although the downtown area was not iced over. The rain was expected to turn to light snow later in the day, then back to rain sometime Tuesday.

Cleveland expected no further rain or snow, but streets were slippery from a three-inch blanket of snow that fell Sunday afternoon and night. Temperatures were about 13-15 degrees colder upstate. Toledo also expected little more snow, but had about four inches from Sunday's fall.

In the Columbus area, the snow was expected to turn to sleet eventually, perhaps not until Tuesday. Primary and secondary roads in Ohio are snow-covered and slippery in spots, except southeast of Ironton, Gallipolis and Pomeroy, the State Highway Department reported today.

Roads in that area are normal unless flooded. The department reported snow flurries over most of the state, with the exception of freezing rain southwest of Eaton, Dayton, Wilmington and Batavia. It said the number of roads closed by high water is too numerous to list.

With Ohio's rivers returning to normal levels, two jobs remain—cleaning up the mess after last week's deluge and distributing millions of dollars in aid to help pay for the damage.

Ohioans stand to lose millions of dollars in the floods which afected all but 12 of the state's 88 counties.

Five teams of damage surveyors, one for each of the state's civil defense areas, met with local officials today and Tuesday to assist in making applications for federal disaster funds.

Representatives of Civil Defense, the state auditor's office and the Departments of Highways and Public Works will strive on the teams.

Federal disaster relief funds for the state will be paid directly to the state treasury and then money will then be distributed to the flood-stricken counties, Ohio Adj. Gen. Loren G. Windom reported. Municipalities must then work through their counties.

Windom emphasized that the available money is intended only to help with temporary, emergency repair of public property. He said the Small Business Administration has funds available for flood-stricken businesses in the form of long-term loans at 3 per cent interest. Similar financial assistance is available to farmers through the Farm Home Administration of the Department of Agriculture.

Meanwhile most of the state's rivers are nearing normalcy again. The Scioto is almost completely within its banks and only Ports mouth at the river's confluence with the Ohio River faced above flood stage readings. Portsmouth is guarded by a huge floodwall to help prevent flooding.

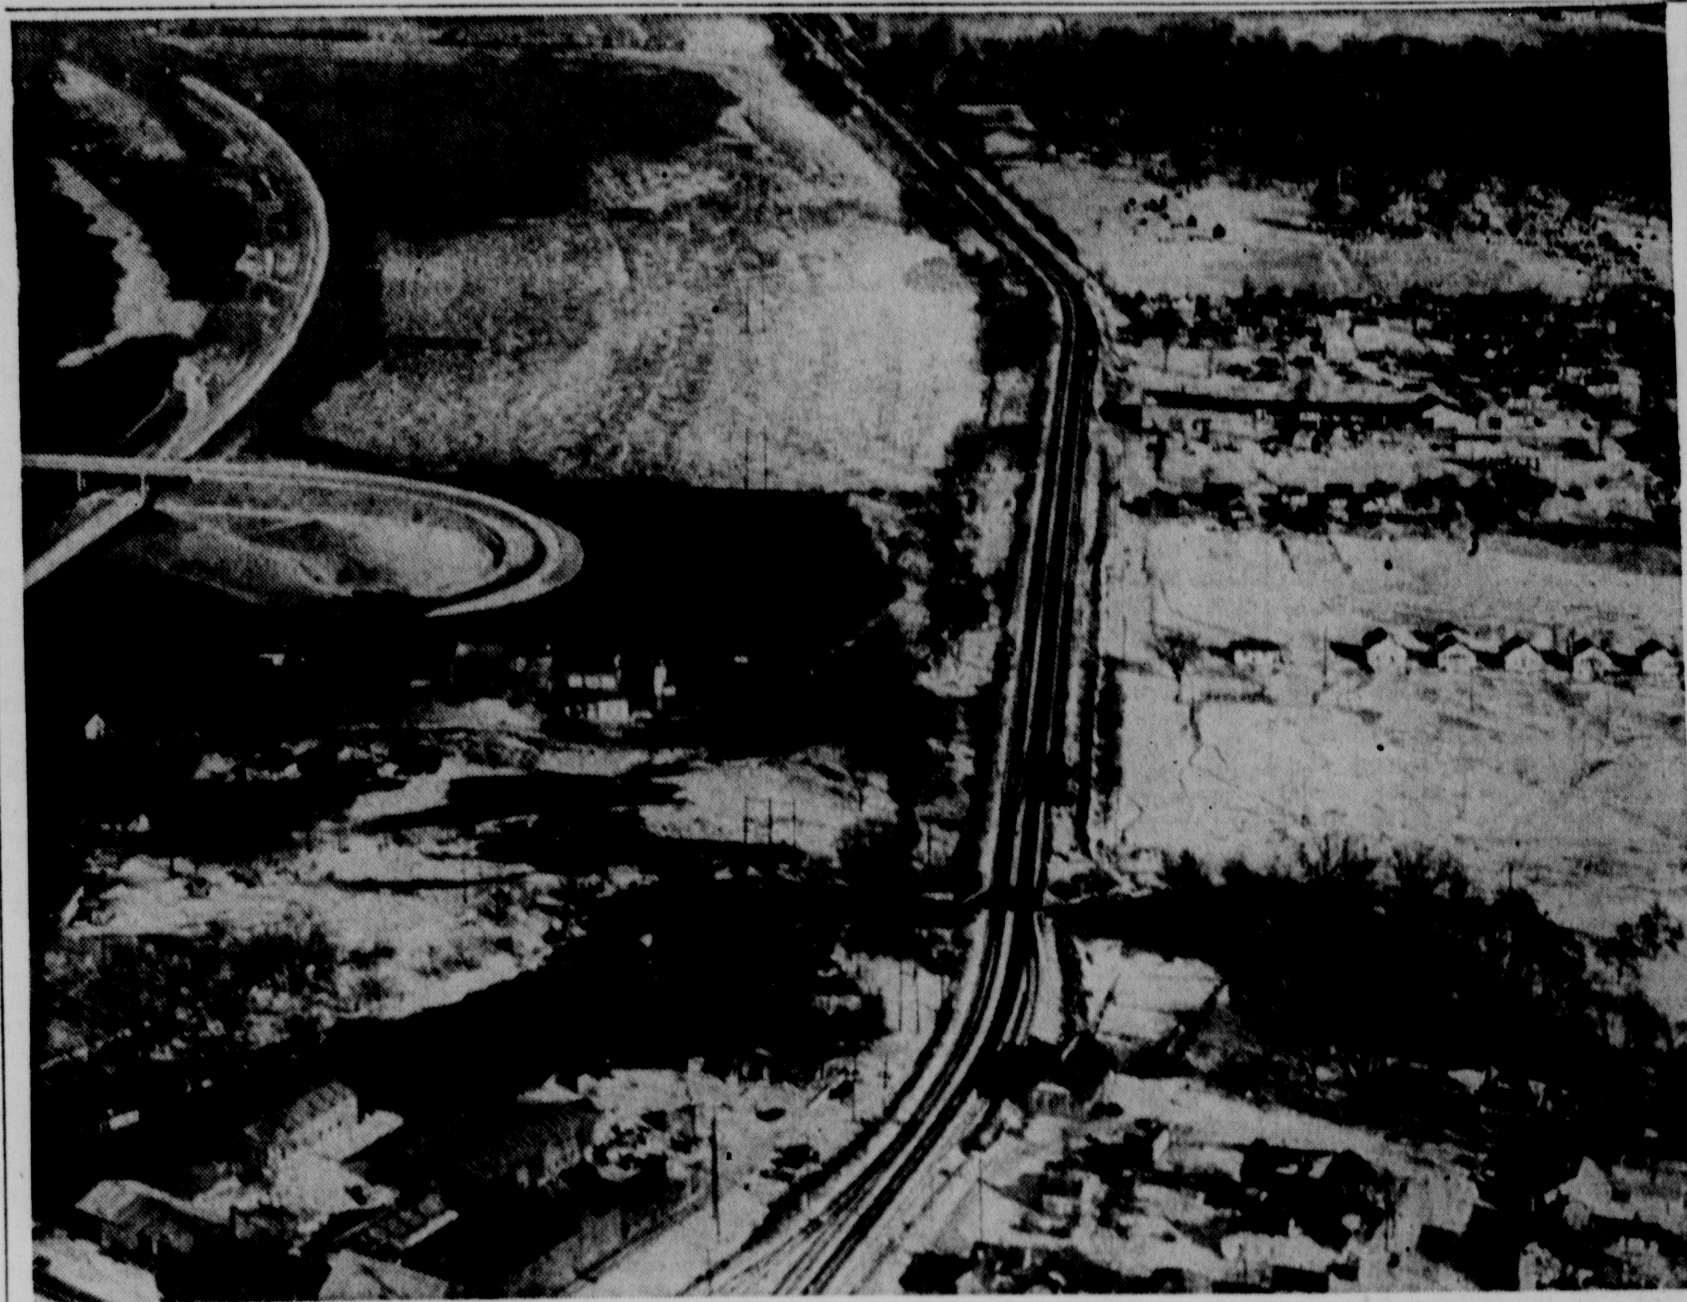

On the Sandusky to the northwest, an ice jam at the river's mouth in Lake Erie was breaking up. As the backed-up water began forcing its way through the ice dam, flooding in Fremont eased, allowing some of Fremont's 2,000 evacuees to return home.

Along the Ohio River, which is now receiving the runoff of last week's rains, damage is expected to be light.

The crest passed Huntington, W. Va., Sunday—slightly under the flood stage of 50 feet—and Portsmouth Sunday night—five feet above the 50 foot level.

The rain-choked Ohio River puts on its big squeeze in Cincinnati today—an expected 57-foot crest that will spill muddy water into Queen City lowlands.

Pope Seeks Unity Of All Christians

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope John XXIII will convene a great assembly—the 21st Ecumenical Council in the 2,000-year history of the Roman Catholic Church—to seek unity of the Christian forces of the world.

Return to the fold of the Eastern Orthodox Church's 129 million members was seen as a prime object of the conclave. But there are great obstacles to any formal reunification, particularly the Roman Catholic dogma that the Pope is supreme and infallible in matters of faith and morals.

Reaffirmation of the church's stand against communism may be another major subject of the Ecumenical Council, the first since 1870. Pope John already has expressed grave concern with the plight of Catholics in Communist lands and particularly in Communist China, where the Red regime has been trying to foster a national Catholic Church that denies allegiance to Rome.

The council will bring together Roman Catholic cardinals, archbishops and bishops from all over the world in what may be the most immense gathering in Christian history. More than 2,500 are eligible to attend.

Representatives of other Christian communities, in addition to Roman Catholics, are likely to be invited to attend.

The 77-year-old pontiff announced his intention to convene the council Sunday after a mass in honor of the conversion of St. Paul the Roman Jew and persecutor of Christians who was struck to the ground on his way to Damascus.

The Pope did not announce a date for the council. Because of the gathering's great size and possibly long duration, the preparation may take many months.

Ecumenical means worldwide, representing the whole church. The 20 previous Ecumenical Councils were called to deal with major problems facing the church, such as heresy and schism, to resolve questions of faith or to establish dogma.

Unlike the Protestants, the Eastern church parted from Rome 905 years ago in a dispute over matters of discipline. The Vatican considers the Eastern Orthodox schismatic but still Catholics, retaining the apostolic tradition and the regular administration of the sacraments.

The majority of the Eastern Orthodox practitioners live in Communist-controlled countries of East Europe. There are about 2 1/2 million in the United States. It also was thought that Protestant churches would be invited to send representatives, at least as observers. But it was considered certain that the Roman church, in any consideration of union with the Protestants, would insist on supremacy of the papacy. This has always been one of the great obstacles to Christian reunification.

This was underlined by one of the Eastern Orthodox prelates—Metropolitan Anthony Bashir, archbishop of the Syrian Antiochian archdiocese in New York. He objected particularly to the dogma of papal infallibility proclaimed at the last Ecumenical Council.

"When one side wants to rule the other side, then I am sure the Eastern churches will never take it," he said.

The first Protestant leaders queried expressed cautious interest. Dr. Edwin T. Dahlberg, president of the U.S. National Council of Churches, said any step toward unity of churches will be welcome but "it would have to be . . . a mutual coming together, not under conditions laid down by one church for all the others."

The first gathering will be held today in Columbus, at the health and safety building, for officials from 22 countries.

Also invited to the meetings are county engineers, county auditors, county civil defense directors and county Red Cross chairmen, as well as officials holding similar positions in the nine critical target cities.

$11-12 Million May Be Sought From Assembly

$100,000 Study Seen Needed To Determine High Water Causes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. Michael V. DiSalle said he will ask the legislature tonight for special flood and poor relief appropriations.

The governor's request will include a 10 1/2 million dollar deficiency allocation for the state to match local poor relief expenditures.

Another million or more will be sought for full reimbursement of local expenditures for food, clothing and shelter before the Red Cross took over those services during the emergency.

Included in the requests will be $100,000 for the state to match funds available in the U. S. Geological Survey to determine the cause of floods and steps for their prevention.

DiSalle told newsmen his "state of the state" message is ready and that he will confer with legislative leaders on a suitable time for delivery. He expressed hope that the sage in joint session Tuesday.

A report from a committee headed by Natural Resources Director Herbert Eagon showed that development of the Muskingum Conservancy District minimized flood damage in that area.

"When people say 'you can't afford those things,' the governor said, 'how does it compare with the millions of dollars in loss if you just let things go? A balance of some kind is needed.'"

Lawmakers brought with them new batches of proposed legislation for introduction and prepared for hearings on some of 240 measures already pending. They included bills on fair employment practices and supplemental unemployment benefits (SUB).

Senators looked for early action on a House-approved bill to increase the salary of the state superintendent of insurance from $10,320 to $14,000 a year at DiSalle's request.

That increase was deleted from a previously enacted bill to boost the pay of cabinet and other appointees because of a technicality. As a result, Edward A. Stowell of Toledo became a deputy until the Legislature completes action of his pay raise as superintendent.

Proponents of a bill to authorize simultaneous payment of SUB and state jobless benefits will testify at the first hearing called by the Senate Commerce and Labor Committee for Tuesday night.

The measure is designed to overcome a State Supreme Court decision that SUB must be deducted from state benefits. Sponsors said enactment also would release more than 25 million dollars in back SUB payments to eligible workers in the steel, rubber, automotive and other industries.

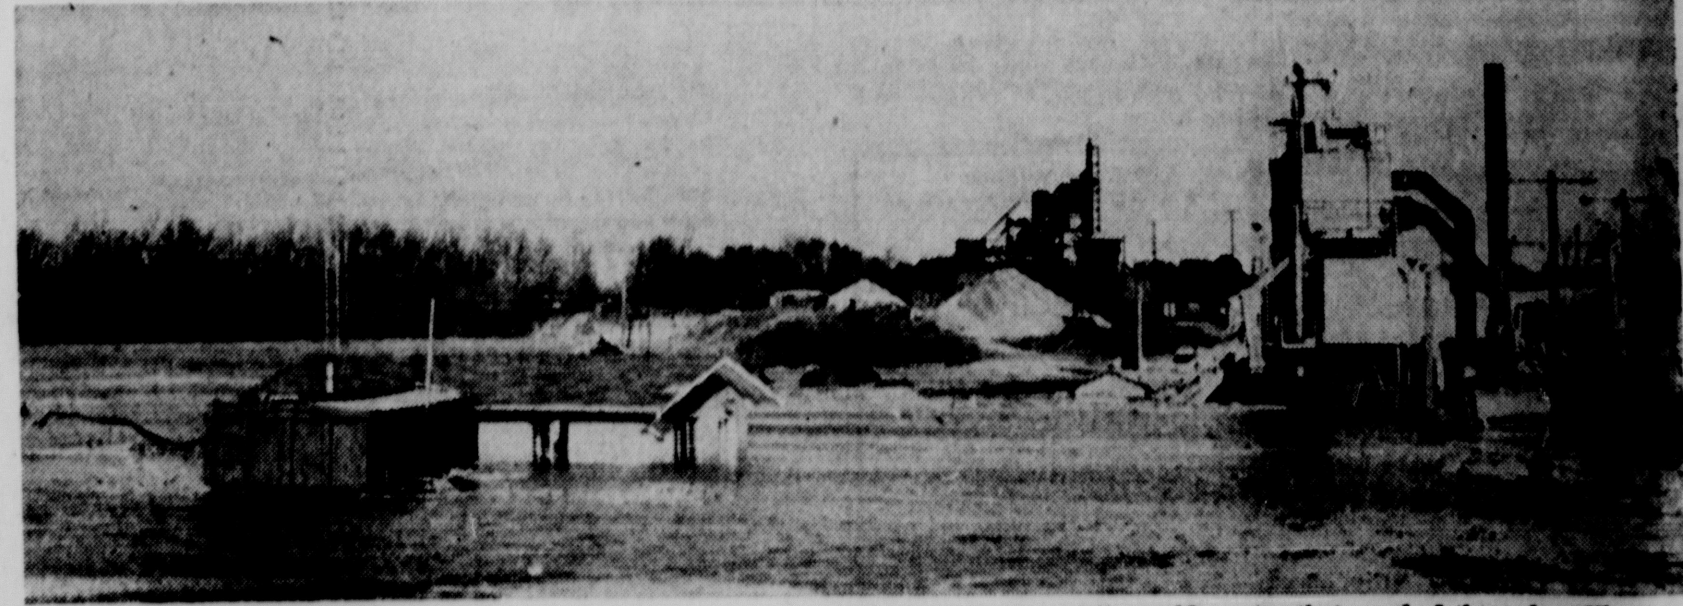

The Senate State Government Committee called for a first hearing Tuesday on a fair employment practices measure aimed at an enforceable ban on racial discrimination.

Other Tuesday hearings in the Senate include a bill in the finance committee to remove the $65 monthly ceiling on old age pensions.

5 Area Meetings Set By Governor DiSalle

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. Michael V. DiSalle has called for a series of five area meetings in Ohio to explain to local officials how to go about applying for federal disaster funds.

Proponents of a bill to authorize simultaneous payment of SUB and state jobless benefits will testify at the first hearing called by the Senate Commerce and Labor Committee for Tuesday night.

The measure is designed to overcome a State Supreme Court decision that SUB must be deducted from state benefits. Sponsors said enactment also would release more than 25 million dollars in back SUB payments to eligible workers in the steel, rubber, automotive and other industries.

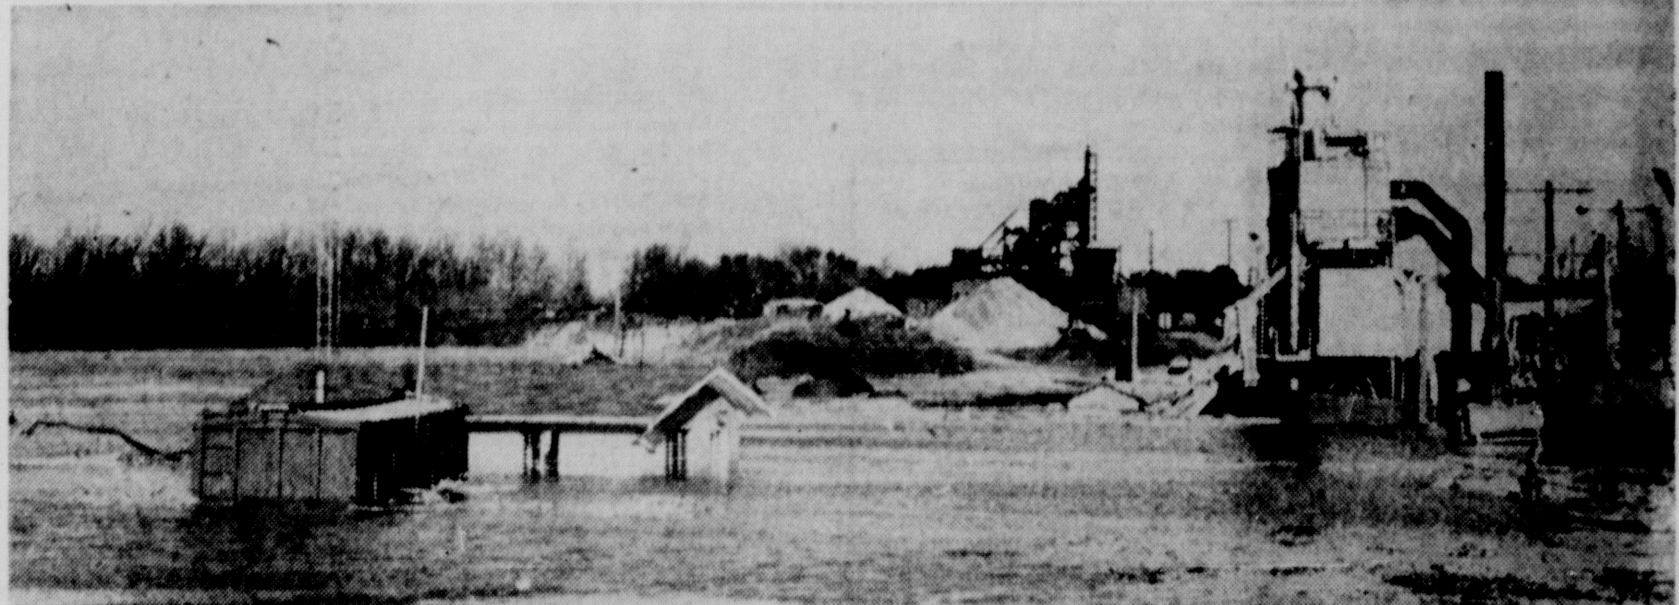

The Senate State Government Committee called for a first hearing Tuesday on a fair employment practices measure aimed at an enforceable ban on racial discrimination.

Other Tuesday hearings in the Senate include a bill in the finance committee to remove the $65 monthly ceiling on old age pensions.

First Alaska Assembly Set For Opening

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP) — An Eskimo carpenter and a lawyer were dominant figures as the new state of Alaska's first Legislature convened today. But an ex-FBI agent, who didn't seek the job, will have to guide the lawmakers.

Hugh J. Wade, 57, secretary of state and acting governor, grasped the reins of what is believed the strongest executive type state government when Gov. William A. Egan became critically ill. They are the only elected state officers.
The former FBI agent, who came to the northland 26 years ago, faced the arduous task of outlining the administrative program of the 49th state's new government.

In messages to the Legislature, Wade will attempt to pad the skeleton of Alaska's streamlined constitution.
Behind Wade will be two other Democrats — Eskimo William E. Beltz, 46, and Warren A. Taylor, who came to the nation's largest state 50 years ago and first served in the old territorial legislature in 1933.

Beltz was chosen Sunday at a pre-legislative caucus as Senate president. Taylor was named as speaker of the House of Representatives.
Egan still is on the critical list after emergency surgery for an abdominal ailment at a Seattle hospital. He has been ill since a few hours after his inauguration Jan. 3.

First Alaska Assembly Set For Opening

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP)—An Eskimo carpenter and a lawyer were dominant figures as the new state of Alaska's first Legislature convened today. But an ex-FBI agent, who didn't seek the job, will have to guide the lawmakers.

Hugh J. Wade, 57, secretary of state and acting governor, grasped the rains of what is believed the strongest executive type state government when Gov. William A. Egan became critically ill. They are the only elected state officers.

The former FBI agent, who came to the northland 26 years ago, faced the arduous task of outlining the administrative program of the 49th state's new government.

In messages to the Legislature, Wade will attempt to pad the skeleton of Alaska's streamlined constitution.

Behind Wade will be two other Democrats — Eskimo William E. Beltz, 46, and Warren A. Taylor, who came to the nation's largest state 50 years ago and first served in the old territorial legislature in 1933.

Beltz was chosen Sunday at a pre-legislative caucus as Senate president. Taylor was named as speaker of the House of Representatives.

Egan still is on the critical list after emergency surgery for an abdominal ailment at a Seattle hospital. He has been ill since a few hours after his inauguration Jan. 3.

Sitter's Sitter Gets Stuck

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—A baby-sitter who adhered to her job somewhat too closely was claiming belated attention in suburban Edina today.

The 16-year-old girl's travail began soon after she started her stint while the lady of the house and her mate went to a New Year's eve party.

The lady left without warning the sitter that she had just painted the bathroom apertures with a so-called miracle plastic paint that carried the label, "It stays on."

When the sitter visited the bathroom early in the evening, she discovered that label was all too true — she couldn't leave the place. And she was still trapped there when the couple returned about 3 a.m. New Year's day.

When turpentine failed to remove the seat of the trouble, the young husband called a physician. He tried alcohol to dissolve the paint. But again without results. Despite the discomfort of the seated sitter the humor of the situation gripped the doctor. He burst into a spasm of laughter, tripped over the sitter's foot and hit the bathtub, knocking himself out.

The man of house then summoned an ambulance crew. The men literally tore the sitter loose from the paint. They took her and the doctor, who had suffered a concussion, to the hospital. Both are reported up and about without any ill effects.

The sitter and the physician had attorneys draw up lawsuits against the couple owning the house. But a man handling the couple's insurance has promised they will never come to trial.

"While we'd love the publicity," he was quoted, "it would be just too embarrassing all around."

Names of those involved were not made public.

The lady left without warning the sitter that she had just painted the bathroom apertures with a so-called miracle plastic paint that carried the label, "It stays on."

When the sitter visited the bathroom early in the evening, she discovered that label was all too true — she couldn't leave the place. And she was still trapped there when the couple returned about 3 a.m. New Year's day.

When turpentine failed to remove the seat of the trouble, the young husband called a physician. He tried alcohol to dissolve the paint. But again without results. Despite the discomfiture of the seated sitter the humor of the situation gripped the doctor. He burst into a spasm of laughter, tripped over the sitter's foot and hit the bathtub, knocking himself out.

The man of house then summoned an ambulance crew. The men literally tore the sitter loose from the paint. They took her and the doctor, who had suffered a concussion, to the hospital. Both are reported up and about without any ill effects.

The sitter and the physician had attorneys draw up lawsuits against the couple owning the house. But a man handling the couple's insurance has promised they will never come to trial.

"While we'd love the publicity," he was quoted, "it would be just too embarrassing all around."

Names of those involved were not made public.

Industrial Scramble Is On

Proof of the fierce competition for industry now taking place comes from a recent survey by the U. S. Department of Commerce. The survey showed 3,000 local groups at work on industrial development in the U. S., with programs ranging all the way from advertising and printing brochures to extensive surveys.

The most significant local efforts have been to build plants and offer them to industries at attractive terms. Community organizations in Scranton, Pa., for example, have built more than 30 new plants for industries.

The push is being made on the state level, too. The Commerce Department survey showed these efforts:

State government development commissions to promote the industrial attractions of the state. Development credit corporations, privately financed and operating on a statewide basis, are springing up in all parts of the country. The idea originated in Maine in 1949 and has now spread to 33 states. Use of state credit or cash to finance industrial construction or supplement local funds for this purpose.

All of this has been described as "a nation-wide scramble to grab off the new plants and expanding industries... community bidding against community, state against state... teamwork among local business interests... teamwork within the states... local improvements... innovation... ingenious minds at work devising new ways to attract new businesses."

In such a race, it is obvious, one has to run merely to keep abreast.

Is Material Success a God?

By Hal Boyle

The one thing the rest of the world feels surest of about the average American is this: That material success is his god.

And the rest of the world couldn't be wrong.

Great material success is admired rather than worshipped by the average American—just as he admires achievement in any form, whether it be in the art of home run knocking or hula hooping. He even has a sneaking admiration for a successful bank robber—so long as the fellow doesn't spill blood.

But material success isn't the major goal of the average American. It is only one of his major daydreams. But he doesn't want it bad enough to make his dream come true.

Take yourself, as an average American. Why aren't you a success?

You probably can't, with honesty, put the blame on fate, your boss or your wife. You can't even blame it on the fact you were born dumb and never outgrew it. The chances are you aren't a big success simply because it isn't worthwhile to you. There simply are other things more important to you.

In my work as a reporter I have interviewed perhaps 2,000 "successful" people over the last quarter century. Asked the reason for their success, about 99 out of 100 gave the same answer: "Hard work." The hundredth person would credit it to "getting the breaks," or admit, off the cuff, he inherited success or married into it.

Many successful people I have met have lacked the charm, personality and even the talent I have found among other men so spectacularly unsuccessful they couldn't buy their way into the city dump. They aren't nearly as much fun to be with.

One difference between the successful man and the average man is obvious. The average man has credit. The successful man has credit plus something else—it is called money.

But there are other differences. The big one lies in how they use their energy. The successful man controls his energy and directs it to a single aim—the winning of success. Everything else is secondary. The average man isn't that single-minded.

Does the successful man himself regret the price he had to pay to get where he is? Often he does—in a very wistful human way. But there is a limit to his regret.

The average man sometimes likes to boast he wouldn't trade places with the most successful man he ever knew. The successful man returns the compliment. He isn't interested in changing places either.

No matter how stern the cost of success, the last thing any successful man I ever met was willing to give up was—success.

More Behind Mikoyan's Visit

By George Sokolsky

The motion picture industry was hit as hard by the opposition to Communists building their party's treasury out of the enormous salaries paid in Hollywood as by the rise of television.

What is called "black-listing" was nothing more in essence than a public resistance to a comparatively small group in this industry whom the public would not support. Men and women refused to see pictures with regard to which Communists had anything to do.

It is significant that during Mikoyan's visit to the United States the motion picture industry announced that Communists Fifth Amendment witnesses and other Red Hots are now eligible for Oscars which of course also means that the industry is again free to give them employment.

It must be part of the People-to-People Movement or some such thing. At the same time Dalton Trumbo announced that he is the Robert Rich who won an Oscar in 1957 but could not accept it because he was bootlegging a job. Many Communists and Fifth Amendment witnesses worked namelessly or under an assumed name.

The motion picture industry is coming back to life partly because it is manufacturing for television and partly because it has so cut down overhead as no longer to be in danger of going into the red on a very profitable picture. There are numerous independent producers and pictures are made in many parts of the world where the cost of production is less than in the United States. This also has aided in tax evasion.

It is a little difficult to discover the exact reason for opening the studios to Communists and Fifth Amendment witnesses except perhaps that it is ridiculous for Eric Johnston to go to Russia to try to sell American films to Soviet Russia while the American film industry refuses to employ Russia's friends and agents.

So we shall have some Communists get Oscars this year which may or may not save us from the Cold War. Perhaps the Russians will buy films in which American Communists worked and that will make the studios rich although that is doubtful.

The Mikoyan event has so many side issues that one is not astonished at anything. In a prior article in which I listed some purchasers of tables for the New York Economic Club dinner to the little Armenian I listed General Dynamics which manufactures both submarines and airplanes.

Now I am instructed by this company that they did not take a table at all. I wonder how many other names in the official listing are of companies banks or individuals who were not there and did not designate that they would be there. I am keeping that seating list as a souvenir of a disreputable event.

This little man Mikoyan is a fresh guy and Americans resent the way he talks about our country and the way he threatened us with war if we did not do as he proposes. And his visit which might have accomplished much good if properly arranged through channels has now backfired.

Perhaps the motion picture industry will soon discover that it was a little premature in accepting Communists and Fifth Amendment witnesses as candidates for Oscars. The great statesmen of that industry may find that they are reviving a dying activity—the activity of identifying such men and women and making them known to the world. Certainly typing up this particular development with the visit of Mikoyan in time if nothing else could back-fire particularly if the Armenian's threat of continued Cold or Hot War should take effect. Do we have to pay their agents with our money?

And Jerry Lewis may even discover that he wise-cracked too effectively if not too wisely about this being "the real McCoyan." Get it? These wise-cracks sure send them rolling in the aisles. Jerry might tell his audience how it feels to be kissed on both cheeks by a Kremlin boss. Personally I would prefer a female without a moustache.

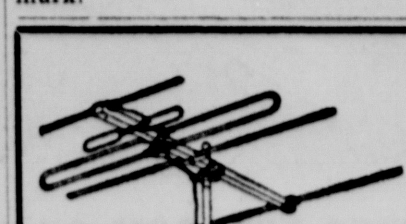

So let us pull down the shades on another unfortunate incident in Hollywood's effort to play the role of statesmanship. Those who ran the motion picture business did much better when the bosses tended to business and left statesmanship to the chosen officials of the nation. They made money in those days and gave work to thousands of writers and actors.

Wet County Dry

MAYNARDSVILLE, Tenn. —

It's against the law to sell whisky in legally wet Union County. Tennessee law permits liquor sales only in towns of 1,000 and more and this East Tennessee county doesn't have one.

The county voted to go wet back in 1939, when Maynardsville met the 1,000 requirement. But a population drop in the past years leaves the county's largest town 400 residents shy of the legal mark.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

A FRIEND OF Groucho Marx's once asked him to stop the car. "I've got to find a Western Union office," he explained. "I want to wire my fiancée."

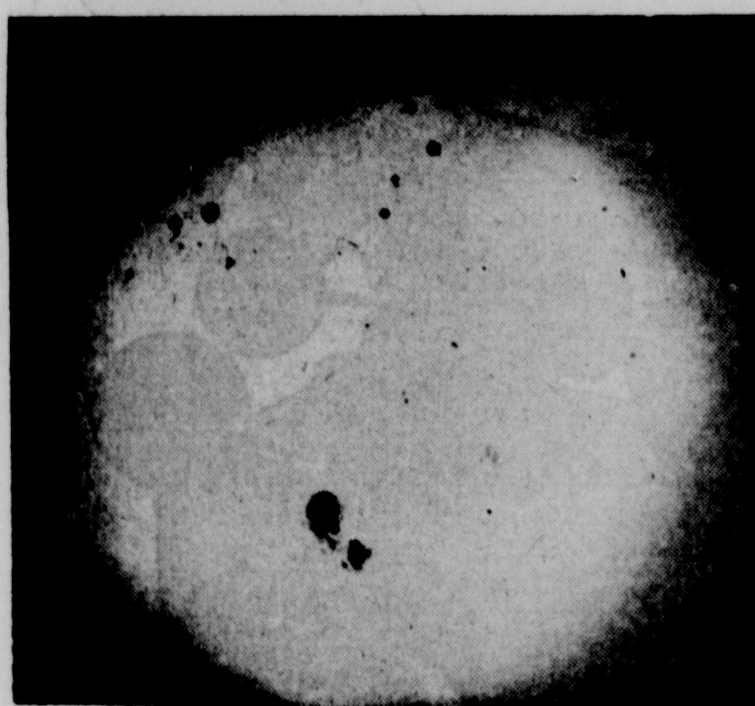

"What's the matter?" inquired Groucho. "Can't she stand by herself?"

Groucho broke up a literary banquet by toasting a famous—and cordially disliked—author as "one man who never let success go to his head. He is unassuming, unspoiled, as comfortable to be with as an old shoe—and just about as interesting."

Advice to parents from Herb Stein: When the sun is shining, and there's a pleasant breeze blowing, it's a crime to let your children linger in the house watching TV. It's relatively easy to make them stop. Just move the set outdoors!

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Republican National Committee, still aching from the Democrats' shattering victory last November, met last week in Des Moines to figure out how to win in 1960. It was a soul-searching get-together.

Before it was over dissatisfaction with the leadership President Eisenhower has given the party came to the surface and drew loud applause. Eisenhower advised the committee to work hard and was told to do more himself. But the committee also warmly applauded a resolution approving the "wise and able leadership" of Eisenhower and Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

The members wound up confused on where the party stood, what it stood for, where it was going and why, and whether it should turn left, right, straight ahead, down the middle, or back wards.

The result: a plan for getting more people to ask more people to vote Republican was approved, but the committee never got around to stating why it thought people should vote for the party. It authorized the naming of a committee to draw up long range goals.

Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona had his own idea. He is chairman of the Senate Republican Campaign Committee and a longtime critic of Eisenhower administration policies. He thought it all right to approve a plan for ringing doorbells.

But he said: "The most important ingredient is missing. Where does the party stand? What are its principles?" He said more than a million Republicans failed to vote last year because they didn't know what the party principles, if any, were.

He did suggest the party quit copying the New Deal.

But it was Rep. Richard M. Simpson's slap at Eisenhower that got the most applause and headlines.

Except around campaign time every two years Eisenhower has been one of the most nonpolitical of all presidents. Between elections he tries to get along with everyone, including Democrats.

Just before an election he gets extremely busy, campaigns, and denounces Democrats. He started late in the 1958 campaign, too. On Nov. 5, the day after the election, he had a news conference.

Asked what his role in the 1960 elections would be, he said: "My role for the next two years is to do exactly my very best to carry on the responsibilities and duties of the presidency. I am not even thinking about that election at this time."

This was in strange contrast with the advice he sent the committee last week:

"I deeply regret that some people look upon our party as a kind of hibernating elephant who wakes with a mighty trumpet blast at election time and then rests calmly until the next election time."

"Political activity must be a matter of unremitting effort. It must go on 365 days a year..."

This was too much for Simpson, a Pennsylvanian who is chairman of the congressional campaign committee and whose job is to try to get Republicans elected to the House.

He called upon the White House "to give us some of that unremitting political effort on behalf of the Republican party (and) to state the long-range purpose of the Republican party, to give us a statement of principles for which we can stand..."

The members wound up confused on where the party stood, what it stood for, where it was going and why, and whether it should turn left, right, straight ahead, down the middle, or back-wards.

The result: a plan for getting more people to ask more people to vote Republican was approved, but the committee never got around to stating why it thought people should vote for the party. It authorized the naming of a committee to draw up long range goals.

Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona had his own idea. He is chairman of the Senate Republican Campaign Committee and a longtime critic of Eisenhower administration policies. He thought it all right to approve a plan for ringing doorbells.

But he said: "The most important ingredient is missing. Where does the party stand? What are its principles?" He said more than a million Republicans failed to vote last year because they didn't know what the party principles, if any, were.

He did suggest the party quit copying the New Deal.

But it was Rep. Richard M. Simpson's slap at Eisenhower that got the most applause and headlines. Except around campaign time every two years Eisenhower has been one of the most nonpolitical of all presidents. Between elections he tries to get along with everyone, including Democrats.

A noted astronomer says that if we continue to spend $6 billion a year on space rocket development a man may reach the moon by 1980. Guess we'll just have to take his word it'll be worth it.

A New Mexican tribe of Apaches have elected a woman head chief. Times sure have changed since Geronimo was around!

The man at the next desk says he's beginning to wonder if all this interest in outer space isn't due to lack of parking space down here!

As Russia's Deputy Premier Mikoyan toured Wall Street the stock market continued to soar to new highs. Apparently, the Bulls aren't afraid of any Bear—Russian or otherwise.

A Moscow newspaper, meanwhile, refers to the Mikoyan tour of the U. S. as a "warm breeze." Just one of the Kremlin's hot ideas?

The U. S. has sent a helicopter to Lebanon to help fight a plague of grasshoppers there. That should get the jump on the pesky critters!

In England some 1,300 factory workers staged a one-day strike when one of them was canned for eating a meat dish while on the job. There was quite a stew about it, we understand.

Just before an election he gets extremely busy, campaigns, and denounces Democrats. He started late in the 1958 campaign, too. On Nov. 5, the day after the election, he had a news conference.

Asked what his role in the 1960 elections would be, he said: "My role for the next two years is to do exactly my very best to carry on the responsibilities and duties of the presidency. I am not even thinking about that election at this time."

This was in strange contrast with the advice he sent the committee last week:

"I deeply regret that some people look upon our party as a kind of hibernating elephant who wakes with a mighty trumpet blast at election time and then rests calmly until the next election time."

"Political activity must be a matter of unremitting effort. It must go on 365 days a year. . . ."

This was too much for Simpson, a Pennsylvanian who is chairman of the congressional campaign committee and whose job is to try to get Republicans elected to the House.

He called upon the White House "to give us some of that unremitting political effort on behalf of the Republican party (and) to state the long-range purpose of the Republican party, to give us a statement of principles for which we can stand. . . ."

20 U.S. Banks Now Rated in $1 Billion Class

Recession Fails To Halt Growth; California Unit Hits $10 Billion

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—Two more banks have joined the list of those with more than one billion dollars in deposits to bring the nation's total to 20.

And merger plans announced or under study would make some of the largest financial institutions even bigger.

The recession didn't halt the growth of most of the giants. The nation's largest California's Bank of America reports deposits up eight per cent from a year ago to cross the 10 billion dollar mark for the first time.

But the recession did leave its mark on some banks in the hard hit industrial areas. The National Bank of Detroit reports deposits off 1 1/2 per cent and that dropped it from eleventh to thirteenth place in the list. The Cleveland Trust Co. had a similar deposit decline but held onto 18th position.

The two newcomers to the billion dollar list are the California Bank Los Angeles and the First Pennsylvania Philadelphia.

That gives California five on the list and Pennsylvania two — the other being Mellon National Bank & Trust of Pittsburgh which moved from 12th to 11th place.

Tagging behind the Bank of America now are four New York banks: Chase Manhattan, First National, City Manufacturers Trust and Chemical Bank.

In the sixth spot is the Security-First National of Los Angeles. Then come Bankers Trust of New York and First National of Chicago which changed places in the past year.

Chicago's Continental Illinois is in the tenth spot right behind Guaranty Trust of New York. When Pittsburgh's Mellon moved up Irving Trust of New York took its place as 12th. After Detroit's National comes New York's Hanover in 14th spot.

American Trust of San Francisco moved up to 15th changing places with Boston's First National.

Another San Francisco giant Crocker-Anglo National Bank held onto 17th while reporting a 10 per cent rise in deposits. Cleveland Trust in eighteenth position is followed by the California Bank Los Angeles with the biggest deposit gain—14 per cent. First Pennsylvania of Philadelphia was pushed into the billion dollar class by a 7 per cent hike in deposits.

Old Skeleton

BRYANSTON, England (AP) — A skeleton found on the site of a new school in this Dorset village will be sent to the British Museum in London. It has been identified as that of a Roman or early Briton.

county or village? Are you a school board member?

In other words, it all depends upon who and what you are.

If it was your home that was damaged, the answer lies entirely with you and you alone. Check your insurance policy. In the event you are destitute, the Red Cross may help and you should make your plight known to that agency. Estimates are that the largest percentage of Ohio home owners who had flood damage are "stuck" for the repair or replacement cost.

Gov. Michael V. DiSalle said a re-assessment of conditions and damage estimates would be made at a special cabinet meeting at the statehouse today.

"We will do everything possible to help everyone needing help," the governor told The Associated Press. "By declaring Ohio a disaster area, we automatically become eligible for a lot of benefits not otherwise available."

The Red Cross set up special regional headquarters in Columbus. By act of Congress, the Red Cross is the semi-quasi agency entitled to act in all major disasters. The job of the Red Cross is to provide immediate relief for persons made homeless and more permanent relief if conditions warrant such action.

The state government can give aid, but only through its regular relief agencies. The Legislature could and perhaps will be asked by Gov. DiSalle to make some special appropriation for flood relief. But normally Ohio's treasury is opened only for certain specified things and for governmental costs.

The best chance for any kind of relief for business, industry and government from the state level on down, is with one of the many federal government agencies. It will take patience, a lot of form-filling and perhaps need the help of an accountant—but it can be done.

J. G. Garwick, regional director of the Small Business Administration at Cleveland, already has placed the counties of Knox, Franklin, Licking and Muskingum in the disaster classification. He says other counties probably will be added.

The SBA is authorized to make disaster loans to restore the victims as nearly as possible to pre-disaster status. Such loans may be made in participation with local banks. In the event local banks are unable to participate, the SBA can make the loan direct.

The nicest thing about a small business loan is the rate of interest. It is set by law at 3 per cent per year and can be made up to a maximum maturity of 20 years.

Declaration of Ohio as a disaster area by both Gov. DiSalle and President Eisenhower was the first step in what ultimately will bring the greatest relief to every taxpayer.

Eventually—if the money holds out—all governmental units may be reimbursed for all extra money spent during the emergency. They even may qualify for direct grants to replace washed-out bridges and roads, ruined equipment, flooded water systems and ruined schools.

In a proclamation directed to George C. Rothrock, of the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization regional headquarters at Olney,

Mr. President Eisenhower said: "I hereby determine the damage in the various areas of Ohio adversely affected by recent severe weather conditions to be of sufficient severity and magnitude to warrant disaster assistance by the federal government to supplement state and local effort."

"I authorize at this time the expenditure of such funds as are necessary for the prosecution of federal assistance, the specific amount to be allocated to you upon your further recommendation."

Even before the specific directive from the President, Rothrock and his chief, OCDM regional director John L. Sullivan, were in a plane en route to Columbus.

Friday night they set up an office at civil defense headquarters at Fort Hayes.

By noon Saturday, everything was in readiness for the influx of experts from all types of federal agencies. They will work with Rothrock and his No. 2 man, Palmer Scarneckia, a native of Niles, Ohio, and a graduate of Ohio State University.

The group is referred to as "OCDM Region 2 Task Force." They have a guide "concerning the reimbursement by the state and its political sub-divisions resulting from the flood disaster." There are nine do's and don'ts:

"1. The normal salaries or wages of regular employees carried on the payroll previous to the disaster who were detailed to disaster work cannot be reimbursed—unless replacements were hired to perform their regular duties while they were engaged on disaster work.

"2. Overtime or holiday pay for disaster work by regular employees in '1' above can be reimbursed.

"3. Wages and salaries of additional personnel employed for the specific purpose of working on the disaster project can be reimbursed.

"4. Warehouse items which are used in connection with the disaster project, and which will be replaced, can be reimbursed.

"5. Reimbursement cannot be made for the use of equipment on disaster work unless the equipment was rented from outside sources for the specific purpose of doing work on the disaster project.

"6. Reimbursement can be made for gasoline and oil used in equipment owned by the city, county, town and state while engaged on disaster work.

"7. The cost of parts used in the repair and maintenance of non-rented equipment, due to normal wear and tear while engaged on disaster work, can be reimbursed. The reimbursement of labor costs in connection with such repairs would be governed by the policies set out in '1' and '2' and '3' above. "8. Applicant's disaster expenditures should be supported by a narrative explanation accompanying the project application as supporting data.

"9. Salaries, overtime pay and holiday pay of regularly employed policemen and firemen are ineligible costs; and any costs incurred by the National Guard are also ineligible."

But because the OCDM guide says so, doesn't mean that all such reimbursements will be made.

"It all depends," said Rothrock, "and let's not get into all those ifs. Applications will be considered and investigations made and each case undoubtedly will have to be treated separately."

Rothrock expects to have a Fort Hayes office for at least two and probably three or four months.

As many as 40 and as few as 20 people may be working there most of that time. Seven engineers are scheduled to report Monday morning; the Federal Public Roads Bureau's Columbus chief August Schofer, already is at work.

Agents and officials of the U.S. Public Health Service, the General Service Administration, the Department of Agriculture and the Housing and Home Finance Agency, to name a few, will arrive Monday to make preliminary surveys of flood damage.

"We are authorized," explained Scarneckia, "to provide immediately for the emergency repair of such things as bridges, schools, public highways and other public buildings."

"Recently in a Kentucky disaster, we built several hundred foot bridges—just so children could get across gullies and streams to get to school.

"We want to stress, however, that we cannot make any repairs to private property, private industry or privately operated utilities."

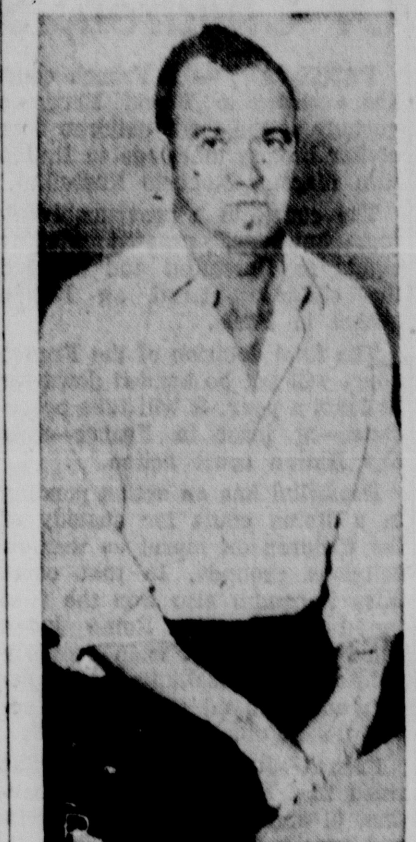

Rothrock said that they had reports from 67 of Ohio's 88 counties on preliminary damage estimates but refused to divulge the figures "at this time . . . We have knowledge of damage in some of the 21 counties still unreported."

Gov. DiSalle said preliminary estimates were that the flood caused 83 million dollars damage in Ohio. Rothrock agreed with the governor that the estimate was very conservative and that the loss probably will surpass 100 millions.

DiSalle said that past experience indicates that Ohio will receive about 25 per cent of emergency costs and temporary repairs to public property.

Rothrock pointed out that the presidential directive "is wide enough to cover anything or any area."

NEW YORK (AP) — U. S. cigarette consumption, which advanced five per cent to a record 430 billion units last year, should hit another all-time peak in 1939, Standard & Poor's Corp. said today.

The business and financial advisory service said the increase may well outpace the normal rise in the smoking age population and disposable income. It noted recent evidence indicates filter tip smokers, who are multiplying in number, tend to consume more cigarettes than nonfilter users.

Ingrid Bergman Gets Custody Of Children; Strings Attached

PARIS (AP) — A French court has awarded to Ingrid Bergman custody of the three children born of her broken marriage to Italian film director Roberto Rossellini.

The court, in a provisional ruling, however, granted visiting rights to Rossellini and decreed the children attend an Italian school in Paris.

The final decision of the French court will not be handed down for at least a year. It will take precedence—at least in France—over any Italian court action.

Rossellini has an action pending in a Rome court for custody of the children on moral as well as religious grounds. In that court Miss Bergman also won the first round today. The Rome judge ruled she had not been properly notified of Rossellini's court action and delayed any further action until Feb. 27.

French Judge Rene Drouillat ruled that the children — Roberto, 8, and the twin girls, Isotta and Ingrid, 6—should remain with their mother on the farm outside Paris where she is living with her new Swedish husband, Lars Schmidt. They may spend weeks with their father at his Paris hotel.

Catholic Barber To Be Honored by Jewish Group

NEW YORK (AP) — All this world really needs is more people like Alfred del Guadio, a Brooklyn barber.

Del Guadio, 46, a Roman Catholic, lives in a predominantly Jewish neighborhood. Once a month, for 15 years, he has visited an orphan's home where, as "Uncle Al," he gives the children free haircuts.

In 1951, Del Guadio was asked if he would help sell Israel bonds. Of course, he said. In a door-to-door campaign he sold nearly $5,000 worth, all those who bought received free haircuts.

Del Guadio, a short, soft-spoken man, sings tenor well enough to belong to the choir of St. Catherine's of Alexandria Roman Catholic Church.

The B'nai B'rith, Jewish service organization, is honoring Del Guadio next Wednesday at the local Young Men's Hebrew Assn.

He will be awarded a plaque "for his dedicated service to the community and his furtherance of the ideals of the brotherhood of man."

In cake baking, it is safe to use a pan that measures within one-quarter inch of the size recommended in the recipe. In measuring, go by both the inside diameter and depth.

The judge also ruled that Miss Bergman must remain in the Paris region when she has custody of the children. If she or Rossellini is not here during the time they would have the children they must surrender them to the other parent.

Rossellini's lawyer promised that Rossellini would not take the children from France. The passports of the children were surrendered to a representative of the court.

In Rome the court also rejected an appeal by the state prosecutor, Martino Ferraiolo that the children be taken from Miss Bergman and put in a boarding school where both parents could visit them. Ferraiolo has filed an appeal of the Rome annulment of the Bergman-Rossellini proxy marriage in 1950.

When the actress and Rossellini legally separated more than a year ago, the Rome court gave her provisional custody of the children. Rossellini moved to gain custody of the children last Sept. 17 just before Miss Bergman and Schmidt were married.

Mrs. Lape Host For Past Chiefs

Mrs. Ann Lape, 359 E. Mound St., will be hostess to the Past Chiefs Club of Pythian Sisters at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday.

Public Welfare Is Rated Ahead Of Religion

MORRISTOWN, N.J. (AP) — Public consideration must come before religious belief, says a Morris County judge.

Accordingly, Judge Nelson K. Mintz ruled Thursday that a Christian Scientist must have her children inoculated against diphtheria before she can enroll them in school.

The ruling was in favor of the Mountain Lakes Board of Education in a suit brought by Pauline Maas.

Mrs. Maas had been battling the board since last September, trying to gain school admittance for her three Greek foster children—Anastasia Maratou, Emmanuel Agostopoulos, and Dimitrios Tagiatakis, each 10 years old.

As a Christian Scientist, she had refused on religious grounds to have the children inoculated. The board refused to admit them.

Judge Mintz said a conflict between personal religious convictions and the general public welfare was regrettable but "the public interest must prevail."

Chillicothean To Head Ohio Forestry Group

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—H. W. Hildebrand, of the Mead Paper Corp., Chillicothe, has been re-elected president of the Ohio Forestry Assn. William Bozett, Logan, and Hildebrand were two of 10 men named to the association's board of directors for two-year terms.

SAD TRIUMPH—Jack Gensler, 14, Carlisle, Pa., wipes away a tear at the thought of what's ahead—slaughtering—for his grand champion Black Angus steer, Scotty, as he leads Scotty in Harrisburg, Pa. The 1,080-pounder was named the best 4-H baby beef of 43rd annual Pennsylvania Farm show.

Pickaway, Ashville Set For Finals

Ashville will meet Pickaway in the finals of the Pickaway County Junior High Basketball Tournament Saturday night after both teams stepped to victories last Saturday in the Jackson gymnasium.

Ashville romped to a 39-17 win over Jackson, but opponent Pickaway had to come from the showers to finally subdue stubborn Monroe, 30-26, in an overtime.

Pickaway and Monroe players left the floor Saturday with the scoreboard reading 26-25 in favor of the Pirates. On a routine check by the referees it was found that the score actually was tied at 26-26.

Both squads were called from the locker rooms to play the first overtime, in which Pickaway held Monroe scoreless while it racked up four points for the win.

THE PIRATES' Flannery and D. Hicks led their teammates with 11 points each. Hunt was tops for Monroe with 10 markers.

Ashville barely worked up a sweat Saturday as it trounced Jackson 39-17. The third Hollenback to grace the Ashville sporting picture displayed his talents with 17 points to equal the Wildcat scoring.

Teammate B. Pritchard followed with 11 points. Jackson's Clifton and Martindale captured scoring honors with seven and six points respectively.

The finals of the tourney will be held Saturday at Jackson. The consolation game, pitting Monroe vs. Jackson will start at 7 p. m.

The finals will start at 8:15 p. m., throwing Ashville at the Pickaway Pirates. The foul shooting contest was won by Pickaway's Flannery who connected on 17 of 25 attempts.

Darby Wins Two Cage Tests Over Alder, Madison Mills

The Darby Trojans racked up victories No. 13 and 14 Friday and Saturday nights over Jonathan Alder, 42-39, and Madison Mills, 63-50.

According to Coach Ned Reichelderfer, the Trojans played their poorest game of the year Friday, and nearly went down to its first defeat at Jonathan Alder.

Darby only scored four points in the final period at Alder, two being free throws by David Musselman, for their margin of victory.

Alder took a 10-7 first quarter lead and maintained its three-point margin at halftime, 27-24. Darby rallied in the third period to take a 38-33 lead.

THE TROJANS were bothered by the big Alder floor and got off just half of their usual shots, approximately 40. Alder's Thomas was top scorer for the evening with 14 points.

Darby's Tommy Walters hit for 13 markers and Musselman tallied 10 points. Darby was outshot from the field, 15 to 12, but made up the difference at the charity line, 18 to 9.

Alder won the reserve contest, 27-23. Darby had an easier time of it against Madison Mills Saturday night. The game was played at Bloomington.

MM stayed with the Trojans for three quarters, before Darby chipped in 22 points to MM's 13 in the final period to chalk up win No. 14 without a loss.

The Trojans committed only three turnovers against the taller and bigger MM-aggregation. Darby led at the end of the first period 13-12 and held a 24-20 halftime advantage.

Both crews scored 17 points in the third stanza. MM's R. Ford led the evening's scoring with 18 points. Darby's Walters and Tommy Liff followed with 16 and 15 points respectively.

Darby's reserve unit dropped its contest, 26-18. The Trojans are three games away from a perfect season. They must meet league opponents Salt Creek and rugged Scioto, plus Hamilton Twp.

3 Men Vie For Army Coach Spot

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP)—The field for the Army football coaching job today apparently had narrowed to three men—all West Point graduates.

The three are Jack Green, Tulane line coach; Bobby Dobbs, head coach at Tulsa, and Dale Hall, Army defensive backfield coach.

Lt. Gen. Gar Davidson, superintendent of the academy, said the three would be interviewed this week.

He also pointed out that it would be "desirable but not imperative" that the post be filled by a West Point graduate. However, only Green, Dobbs and Hall have been mentioned by Davidson.

Earl (Red) Blaik quit as football coach and athletic director two weeks ago after piloting Army for several seasons.

Blaik refused to say who he favors—if anyone. However, it is known that Hall has been closest to him and is familiar with the personnel of the Army team. This will weigh in his favor.

Green and Dobbs also have served as Army assistant coaches under Blaik.

Cincy Gets Chance at Title; OSU Could Scramble Big 10

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Cincinnati gets a chance this week to just about lock up the Missouri Valley basketball title, and Ohio State could cause some changes in the Big Ten picture.

The sixth-ranked Bearcats, leading the M-V loop with a 5-0 record, entertain Drake (0-5) tonight and are hosts Saturday to Wichita (3-2) in league frays. Should the 'Cats move to a 7-0 mark, they'll be hard to catch in the late going.

Bradley and St. Louis, tied for second with 3-1, suffered their lone losses at the hands of the Cincinnati powerhouse.

Ohio State, beaten last week by Michigan State and Purdue to compile a drab 1-4 Western Conference record, has a pair of home games in which to get back on the victory trail. All four Buck losses were on the road, and its only conquest was on the St. John arena floor.

The Bucks entertain Iowa (2-3) tonight, and Minnesota (3-2) Saturday. They catch Indiana (3-2) and Wisconsin (4-0) on the Buck boards next week.

The league frays for the Bearcats and Bucks are the headliners on the 47-game slate. Like last week, several schools are taking a hiatus because of semester exams.

Cincinnati enhanced its high ranking Saturday by trimming Xavier's NIT champions 92-66, with All-American Oscar Robertson pouring in 38 points. Steubenville, statewide leader with 13-0, ruined Marietta's Pioneers 105-68 for their 36th in a row and their 61st straight on the home boards.

Wittenberg and Akron, lone unbeaten teams in the Ohio Conference, appeared in the league's only games, Wittenberg smashing third-place Muskingum, and Akron trimming Heidelberg.

Kent State fell from the top spot in the Mid-American, losing to both Bowling Green and Marshall for a 2-2 record, as Miami's defending champs smeared Western Michigan to take the lead with 6-1.

Other eye-catching contests this week include:

Monday: Kent State (2-2) vs. Ohio Univ. (2-2) in Mid-American.

Wednesday: Georgetown (Washington, D. C.) vs. Xavier, Bradley vs. Toledo, Canisius vs. Dayton, St. Francis vs. Youngstown.

Saturday: Marshall vs. Kent State, Duquesne vs. Toledo, St. Francis vs. Dayton, Xavier vs. Notre Dame, Steubenville vs. Evansville, Buffalo vs. Akron, Niagara vs. John Carroll.

Tigers Invade Blue Lions Court, Den

The Circleville High School cage Tigers, idle last week due to flood waters in this area, will resume action Friday night with a trip to Washington C. H. for a league meeting with the Blue Lions.

Last week's test with Wilmington was postponed when about all activity here took a backseat to high water. CHS Coach Dick Snouffer said the game will be scheduled at a later date.

The Wilmington contest would have had an important bearing on South Central Ohio League standings. Wilmington leads the loop with a 5-1 record while Circleville is in second place at 4-1.

The Tigers hope to turn in a repeat of their first encounter with the Blue Lions when they were defeated here, 50-37. The WCH crew has improved since that time and always can be considered a worthy opponent on the home floor.

CIRCLEVILLE will face the Blue Lions without the services of Bob Shadley, out with a chipped bone in the left elbow. Senior Joe Adkins probably will serve as Shadley's replacement.

Coach Snouffer's other starters probably will be Don Rowland and Cal Ellis at guards, Larry Hannahs at center and Asa Elsea at the other forward.

Pleasantville Tops Picktown

Pleasantville dealt arch rival Pickerington its first loss in 15 games Saturday night, 73-64, plus pulling into a Fairfield County League tie with its hosts. Both teams are 7-1 in loop play.

Picktown led 19-16 at the end of the first quarter, but Pleasantville gained momentum in the second period to lead at halftime, 39-38, which it increased to 58-46 at the third quarter mark.

Pleasantville's Jim Porter nabbed scoring honors with 30 points plus some excellent rebounding for his miniature size. Pickerington's Strome was top man for his teammates with 26 points, 18 in the first half.

Pleasantville is now 12-4 on the season and Pickerington stands 14-1, and was ranked 22nd in the state Class "A" AP poll last week.

Pleasantville — Porter 12-6-30; Kemmerer, R. 5-1-11; Kemmerer, L. 4-5-13; Clark 2-0-4; Mosier 6-3-15; Hicks 0-0-0; Totals 29-19-72. Pickerington — Strome 12-2-26; Manson 0-1-1; Gibson 4-2-10; Ebricht 3-3-6; Hively 5-0-10; Lorenze 4-0-3; Totals 28-9-64.

Tigers' McHale Goes to Braves

MILWAUKEE (AP) — John McHale of the Detroit Tigers—one of the youngest top executives in the youngest top executives in baseball—will take over the general manager ship for the Milwaukee Braves.

McHale, 37, announced his surprise decision Sunday after meeting with Braves' owner Lou Perini and Executive Vice President Birdie Tebbets.

"It definitely is a race of the job seeking the man and not the man seeking the job," Perini said.

McHale, in leaving the American League club where he was named general manager early in 1957, replaces John Quinn, who resigned to accept a similar position with the Philadelphia Phillies.

Alder won the reserve contest, 27-23. Darby had an easier time of it against Madison Mills Saturday night. The game was played at Bloomingburg.

MM stayed with the Trojans for three quarters, before Darby chipped in 22 points to MM's 13 in the final period to chalk up win No. 14 without a loss.

The Trojans committed only three turnovers against the taller and bigger MM-aggregation. Darby led at the end of the first period 13-12 and held a 24-20 halftime advantage.

Both crews scored 17 points in the third stanza. MM's R. Ford led the evening's scoring with 18 points. Darby's Walters and Tommy Liff followed with 16 and 13 points respectively.

Darby's reserve unit dropped its contest, 26-18. The Trojans are three games away from a perfect season. They must meet league opponents Salter Creek and rugged Scioto, plus Hamilton Twp.

3 Men Vie For Army Coach Spot

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP)—The field for the Army football coaching job today apparently had narrowed to three men—all West Point graduates.

The three are Jack Green, Tulane line coach; Bobby Dobbs, head coach at Tulsa, and Dale Hall, Army defensive backfield coach.

Lt. Gen. Gar Davidson, superintendent of the academy, said the three would be interviewed this week.

He also pointed out that it would be "desirable but not imperative" that the post be filled by a West Point graduate. However, only Green, Dobbs and Hall have been mentioned by Davidson.

Earl (Red) Blaik quit as football coach and athletic director two weeks ago after piloting Army for several seasons.

Blaik refused to say who he favors—if anyone. However, it is known that Hall has been closest to him and is familiar with the personnel of the Army team. This will weigh in his favor.

Green and Dobbs also have served as Army assistant coaches under Blaik.

Cincy Gets Chance at Title; OSU Could Scramble Big 10

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Cincinnati gets a chance this week to just about lock up the Missouri Valley basketball title, and Ohio State could cause some changes in the Big Ten picture.

The sixth-ranked Bearcats, leading the M-V loop with a 5-0 record, entertain Drake (0-5) tonight and are hosts Saturday to Wichita (3-2) in league frays. Should the 'Cats move to a 7-0 mark, they'll be hard to catch in the late going.

Bradley and St. Louis, tied for second with 3-1, suffered their lone losses at the hands of the Cincinnati powerhouse.

Ohio State, beaten last week by Michigan State and Purdue to compile a drab 1-4 Western Conference record, has a pair of home games in which to get back on the victory trail. All four Buck losses were on the road, and its only conquest was on the St. John arena floor.

The Bucks entertain Iowa (2-3) tonight, and Minnesota (3-2) Saturday. They catch Indiana (3-2) and Wisconsin (0-4) on the Buck boards next week.

The league frays for the Bearcats and Bucks are the headlines on the 47-game slate. Like last week, several schools are taking a hiatus because of semester exams.

Cincinnati enhanced its high ranking Saturday by trimming Xavier's NIT champions 92-68, with All-American Oscar Robertson pouring in 38 points. Steubenville, statewide leader with 13-0, ruined Marietta's Pioneers 105-68 for their 36th in a row and their 61st straight on the home boards.

Wittenberg and Akron, lone unbeaten teams in the Ohio Conference, appeared in the league's only games, Wittenberg smashing third-place Muskingum, and Akron trimming Heidelberg.

Kent State fell from the top spot in the Mid-American, losing to both Bowling Green and Marshall for a 2-2 record, as Miami's defending champs smeared Western Michigan to take the lead with 6-1.

Other eye-catching contests this week include:

Monday: Kent State (2-2) vs Ohio Univ. (2-2) in Mid-American.

Wednesday: Georgetown (Washington, D. C.) vs Xavier, Bradley vs Toledo, Canisius vs Dayton, St. Francis vs Youngstown.

Saturday: Marshall vs Kent State, Duquesne vs Toledo, St. Francis vs Dayton, Xavier vs Notre Dame, Steubenville vs Evansville, Buffalo vs Akron, Niagara vs John Carroll.

Jerry Lucas Doing Right Well As Buckeye Freshman Cager

By CLARENCE YOUNG
Central Press Association
Correspondent

COLUMBUS, O. — Here is bad news for Ohio State's basketball opponents of the next three years: Jerry Lucas has made the adjustments from high school to college as easily as he scores 30 points in a basketball game. You've undoubtedly heard or read about Lucas. He's the 6-9 basketball phenom from Middletown, O. And he didn't experience defeat until the very last game of his high school career.

The memorable setback (63-62) came in the semi-finals of the Ohio Class AA Tournament last March against Columbus North, breaking a string of 76 straight victories for the Middies.

Oddly enough, Lucas' freshman basketball coach at Ohio State is Frank Truitt, who piloted Columbus North to the triumph over Jerry and his buddies.

And the scene of that defeat was St. John's Arena on the Ohio State campus where Lucas appears certain to acquire All-American fame as a collegiate cager.

Jerry shines in the classroom as well as on the hard court. Lucas compiled a 3.6 average for his first quarter in Ohio State's College of Commerce. Only a C in English deprived him of a perfect 4.0 average.

In basketball, he's doing as well—if not better. Big Ten rules limit freshman competition to games with the junior varsity. The first time out against the Jay Vees, Lucas amassed 37 points as the yearlings won, 113-70. And then the next time, probably just to prove his debut wasn't a fluke, big Jerry racked up 34 in his team's 105-77 victory.

The name of Lucas is proving to be magic at the gate, too. Ohio State freshmen normally played the preliminary to the varsity game. A crowd of 11,125 turned out to see Lucas in his debut, just to learn first-hand if it's true what they have been reading and hearing about Jerry. His second appearance drew 6,230.

Ohio State played its next two home games without the benefit of Lucas and a prelim. One contest drew 2,579 and the other 3,783.

Jerry was the recipient of 80 feelers and offers from various colleges upon completion of his amazing high school career and he admits the one he accepted was far from the best.

Among the outstanding features of Lucas' performances on the hardwood are his poise and polish, these qualities being second only to his eagle eye for the basket. He operates as though he is a hardened, Big Ten senior instead of a 19-year-old freshman.

Lucas also is a trackman, but his ability in this sport doesn't compare with his proficiency as a cager.

His young brother, Ray, 6-2, was an end on the Middletown High school football team last fall and merited honorable mention on the all-Ohio high school grid squad No. 1, Ray doesn't play basketball.

Jerry's girl friend is Mary Jane Ross, a student at Miami University, Oxford, from Van Wert, O. They were introduced to each other by Richie Hoyt, a sophomore on the current Ohio State varsity team. Richie is a member of Beta Theta Pi fraternity, to which Lucas is pledged.

Are Jerry and Mary Jane serious? Jerry's serious about only his studies—and basketball—now.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

'Hot Water' May Cleanse

DEAR ABBY: The 15-year-old girl we use as a baby sitter has been very dependable in the past, but we heard something which disturbs us and we don't know what to do about it. My neighbor told me that the last time we were out they saw a fellow go into our home (front door) and all the lights were out during his visit. When my husband and I drove up into our driveway, all the lights went on quickly and the boy ran out the back door. Should we toss this sitter off our list, talk to her about it or take it up with her guardian I have to get the girl in hot water.

BOTHERED PARENTS: Talk to the girl about it. If she is keeping company with a boy who has a little character, she needs more guidance than she is getting. Tell her the Lord sometimes puts us in "hot water" to cleanse us—not to drown us.

DEAR ABBY: I am a single woman (divorced) who has been going with a single man (widowed) for six years. We are both in our fifties. Now I am a free woman, Abby, and think I have a better right to this man than a woman who is trying to take him away from me. She's married and is living with her husband. I know you are going to say, "Leave him alone!" Well, how about HER leaving him alone? I already told her husband and he said, "What of it?" Is there any way I can keep her away from him or should I just give up? MABEL

DEAR MABEL: A man who obviously has no respect for a woman's marriage vows is a pretty poor risk for a marriage of his own. Lose him and look for a man with more integrity.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a husband who, in his ten years of married life, has never once remembered his wife on her birthday or wedding anniversary? Every year I keep hoping he will come home with a small box of candy or a potted plant. The value of the gift would mean nothing just so I was remembered. He is not short of money for his own hobbies, so it can't be that. Can a man so thoughtless love his wife? FORGOTTEN

DEAR FORGOTTEN: A wise wife will "protect" herself against being "forgotten" on special occasions. Remind him of the occasion in advance and keep letting him know that you are "sentimental" and would welcome even a token from the five and dime if you don't LET him forget he won't.

NOTE TO KEN: Whether a man winds up with a nest egg or a goose egg depends on the chick he marries.

Storms Dent U.S. Industry As Living Costs Show Dip

NEW YORK (AP) — Storms and floods dented the nation's industrial production last week. Living costs showed a downward trend and interest rates tightened. In Washington, the first blows were exchanged in the annual battle of the budget. And a Russian bid for a larger slice of U. S. trade was turned down.

These were highlights of a week that found investors, businessmen and top Washington officials betting even more heavily than before on operation upturn.

Ice-clogged rivers overflowing their banks closed steel mills, flooded coal mines and stalled shipments of steel, coal, sand and gravel on inland waterways. In the Pittsburgh area, one of the hardest hit, thousands of workers were made idle.

Auto production slowed down a bit, but the week's total—estimated by Automotive News at 130,190 cars—showed a 21 per cent rise over the same week last year.

There was encouraging news from the American Steel Warehouse Assn. Steel buying from warehouses has picked up substantially, and warehouse shipments for the first quarter may top the year-ago rate by 25 per cent. Some buyers are reportedly stocking up in anticipation of a steel strike in July.

Living costs inched lower last month. The December decline amounted to only two-tenths of one per cent in the government's consumer price index but it was the first dip since August. You paid a little less for oranges, eggs, poultry, coffee and new cars (auto dealers gave larger discounts). Used car prices, rail and transit fares, rents and medical costs moved up.

As living costs retreated, factory workers' pay advanced. Average take-home pay for a worker with three dependents hit a new high of $79.60 a week.

Business borrowing costs went up another notch this week as dealers in commercial paper boosted their rates. Commercial paper is used by companies seeking to borrow large amounts of cash on a short-term basis.

Stock sales totaled 19,297,700 shares in the latest week compared to 21,105,080 shares in the previous week and 11,621,370 in the same week last year.

Bond sales had a par value in the latest week of $34,717,000 against $38,405,000 the week before and $33,122,000 in the corresponding 1958 week.

Last week, President Eisenhower held out hope of possible tax reductions in late 1960 if the federal government lives within its income during the next 18 months. This week the President submitted a 77-billion-dollar budget pre-

4 Charges Are Filed Against 18-Year-Old

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP) — Four charges, including reckless driving and driving while intoxicated, have been filed against Bryan Davidson, 18, of Elyria. Lt. Robert Sample of the Avon police shot the youth in the groin after a 10-mile chase Saturday night. Sample said Davidson jumped out of a pickup truck following an 80-mile-an-hour chase along U.S. 20, then ignored two warning shots and kept running until the third bullet brought him down. The boy's condition was reported satisfactory at Memorial Hospital.

Storms Dent U.S. Industry As Living Costs Show Dip

NEW YORK (AP) — Storms and floods dented the nation's industrial production last week. Living costs showed a downward trend and interest rates tightened. In Washington, the first blows were exchanged in the annual battle of the budget. And a Russian bid for a larger slice of U. S. trade was turned down.

These were highlights of a week that found investors, businessmen and top Washington officials betting even more heavily than before on operation upturn.

Ice-clogged rivers overflowing their banks closed steel mills, flooded coal mines and halted shipments of steel, coal, sand and gravel on inland waterways. In the Pittsburgh area, one of the hardest hit, thousands of workers were made idle.

Auto production slowed down a bit, but the week's total—estimated by Automotive News at 130,190 cars—showed a 21 per cent rise over the same week last year.

There was encouraging news from the American Steel Warehouse Assn. Steel buying from warehouses has picked up substantially, and warehouse shipments for the first quarter may top the year-ago rate by 25 per cent. Some buyers are reportedly stocking up in anticipation of a steel strike in July.

Living costs inched lower last month. The December decline amounted to only two-tenths of one per cent in the government's consumer price index but it was the first dip since August. You paid a little less for oranges, eggs, poultry, coffee and new cars (auto dealers gave larger discounts). Used car prices, rail and transit fares, rents and medical costs moved up.

As living costs retreated, factory workers' pay advanced. Average take-home pay for a worker with three dependents hit a new high of $79.60 a week.

Business borrowing costs went up another notch this week as dealers in commercial paper boosted their rates. Commercial paper is used by companies seeking to borrow large amounts of cash on a short-term basis.

Stock sales totaled 19,297,700 shares in the latest week compared to 21,105,080 shares in the previous week and 11,621,370 in the same week last year.

Bond sales had a par value in the latest week of $34,717,000 against $38,405,000 the week before and $33,122,000 in the corresponding 1958 week.

Last week, President Eisenhower held out hope of possible tax reductions in late 1960 if the federal government lives within its income during the next 18 months. This week the President submitted a 77-billion-dollar budget proposal.
